VIEWS OF PENDLETON OF OHIO.

I cannot agree with Governor Hays that the reconstruction of national politics are wisely and happily settled; that the great questions of liberty and Union have been solved and the reconstruction of the Union made safe. I cannot agree with him that retrenchment, economy and honesty have been introduced into the management of the federal expenditure; that the debt has been decreased and is decreasing, as he states it; that the burdens of taxation have been reduced and their weight upon the people lightened; that sound judgment and freedom from bad influences have been brought to the exercise of the immense power of the secretary of the Treasury; that business is active; that enterprise is active; that vigor, energy and industry are bountifully rewarded; that employment is abundant; that daily toil is fully compensated; that commerce, on the ocean and on land, is prosperous; and therefore I cannot serenely, as does our worthy Governor, turn my face from all questions of federal politics and look only at State affairs. I cannot say the Union is restored when Virginia, Mississippi and Texas are under military government, and Georgia without representation in Congress; that the Union is restored when justice is administered by a drum head court martial; that the constitution is maintained, when we know that the Supreme Court is only waiting an opportunity to declare the reconstruction acts unconstitutional. I oppose the adoption of the Fifteenth amendment, because it is a material and radical change in our system of government. It destroys the relation of the States to the federal Union which the constitution established, and degrades them; takes away from the States, without their consent, that essential attribute of a self-governing community. Two years ago the people of Ohio, without distinction of party, by an immense majority, refused to amend the State constitution. I see no reason to believe that they have changed their opinion. I object to its adoption, because by the strongest implication it confers upon Congress a right reserved to the States, to exclude from the ballot persons of our own white race because of their nativity, creed, want of education or property, and prohibits the exclusion of another race. If the interpretation of Senator Morton and Senator Howard be correct, under this amendment Congress and the State may exclude Irishmen, Germans, Catholics, Protestants, or the poor man from the enjoyment of suffrage, but not the negro or Mongolian. I object to its adoption because it is part and parcel of a scheme to flood the country with a forced importation of an immense number of Chinese coolies, and to bring into our alien race a more difficult form of the social and governmental questions that have so unhappily divided our people.

DELIRIUM TREMENS—A STARTLING ADVENTURE.

A man named John Murphy, living on the outskirts of Cedar City, Iowa, was startled one night recently just as he was retiring by loud cries of "murder" coming from some man in the street near the house. Mr. Murphy went to the door to ascertain the cause of the alarm. The man rushed by him and into the house. He discovered that his visitor was armed with a huge knife, which he was frantically flourishing, and at the same time proclaiming his ability to cut the throats of his pursuers, of whom he evidently suspected Mr. Murphy as being one. The man was almost entirely nude, having but a single garment on his stalwart limbs. It needed but a glance to show that he was a maniac of the most desperate sort. By a movement of marvelous agility the maniac entrenched himself behind a trunk and under the bed, and an opportunity was given Mr Murphy for casting about for aid. Fortunately the nearest neighbor was up, having had a visit from the maniac still earlier in the evening. It seems he had called, and in a quiet way requested lodging, which was granted. Soon after the family retired, the paroxysm of insanity had seized him, and he had begun a murderous assault upon innumerable imaginary assailants with his large knife. When the proprietor entered his room to ascertain the cause of the disturbance he made at him viciously, but was arrested by a knock-down blow before doing any damage. During the melee that followed, the maniac succeeded in escaping from the house, crying murder, and took refuge in Mr. Murphy's house. The neighbor was called by Mr. Murphy, and three men who were passing in a wagon. All entered the house, and by various artifices sought to dislodge the visitor from his position under the bed, but in vain. Once he made a sally out, seizing a loaded gun which one of the men had rested against the side of the room, but he seized it by the muzzle, and in the struggle which followed was forced to release it. He then retreated under the bed again, and renewed his throat-cutting upon imaginary enemies, occasionally turning upon those in the room, as though wishing to try his knife upon them. Mr. Murphy sent a boy for an officer, and after some necessary delay he arrived. By stratagem the maniac was surrounded, and in a sudden rush of the six men he was overpowered and securely ironed. It was discovered that he was a tailor named Smith, who had been drinking excessively for several months, and was therefore suffering a violent attack of delirium tremens. With much difficulty he was conveyed to Cedar Falls, and lodged in the calaboose for the remainder of the night. In the morning, when taken out, he was still raving, and during his imprisonment had beat his head against the walls of the prison until he presented a most sickening sight. During the following night 110 drops of laudanum administered to him failed to reduce him to quietness.—Dubuque Herald

A COMPLIMENT TO STIEFF—THE PIANO MAN.

The manufactory of Mr. Stieff, on Camden street, between Sharp and Howard, has also been enlarged, by an addition of a four-story brick warehouse, fronting 36 feet on Perry street, with a depth of 150 feet, which is connected with the factory by means of a bridge one hundred and twenty-five feet in length, across Perry street. The main factories, before the addition had been added, fronted 84 feet, with a depth of 86 feet on Camden street and 46 feet on the same, with a depth of 186 feet to Perry street,

With the recent additions and a force of more than one hundred experienced workmen in constant employ, the firm can conveniently turn out from twelve to fifteen first-class pianos per week and eight to ten church organs. At the present time the manufacturing capacities are worked to their utmost, and are still found inadequate to supply the demand for the instruments. Negotiations are now pending by the Messrs. Stieff for the purchase of the adjoining lot to the west of the recent addition to the factory, the object being to erect thereon an additional building to facilitate the manufacture of their instruments. The above firm have devoted more than a third of a century to the manufacture and sale of pianos, and by introducing every improvement known in the construction of superior instruments, have established a reputation for their productions second to none of that of any house of the kind in the country, and can now safely be ranked as being one of the largest manufactures south of New York.—Baltimore Gazette

"BONNIE JEAN."

The annexed anecdote respecting Burns' "Bonnie Jean" is given in the Dumfries Herald of May 27:

"The following story was related to me by a lady who had the particulars of it from Mrs. Burns herself, with whom she lived for many years on terms of the closest and most friendly intimacy. It may be notified that the anecdote has never "been in print." It is well known that the fame of Burns sent troops of admirers from 'a' the airts the win' can blaw' to visit his widow, who continued to reside in the house in which her husband died. A big, burly, open-hearted Englishman one morning touched the 'knocker' that adorned the door of the modest house in Burn's street, being anxious to see the celebrated 'Bonnie Jean.' The appeal was answered by Mrs. Burns herself, who, happening to be 'elbow up in her baking,' was not in a state to receive visitors. The stranger soon told his story, and was courteously shown to the parlor by Mrs. Burns. Ever anxious to gratify the admirers of her husband's genius, the good lady doffed her dusty apron, put on a tidy cap, and immediately reappeared in the room where the stranger was waiting. The Englishman, seeing his old friend who had opened the door to him, asked again to see 'Bonnie Jean.' 'Weel, sir,' said Mrs. Burns, 'Bonnie Jean stands before ye, and I'm afraid by your look that you are somewhat disappointed.' 'Ten thousand pardons, madam,' said the stranger, rising. 'I thank you for your goodness in permitting me this distinguished honor and valued privilege.' It is unnecessary to detail the usual commonplace conversation that took place on such an occasion. Just as the Englishman rose to depart he expressed his delight with the interview, and proceeded, 'I am, madam, a most enthusiastic admirer of your husband's memory and genius, and should value as priceless the smallest thing you have to give. I would willingly pay for anything without giving you offence; but the most worthless thing in your eyes would be to me priceless; any scrap, or article, or relic, I would keep as the apple of my eye.' 'Weel, sir,' answered Mrs. Burns, with a twinkle of fun in her eyes, 'I fear the house now contains very few of these relics of the bard, indeed, so great has been the demand for them during the bypast years that I begin to think the only relic left is myself, and doubtless you'll no tak the gift o' that!' The Englishman doubtless made good his retreat.'

A PREACHER'S STRATEGEM.

It is said that, at one time, when Lorenzo Dow preached under a large spruce pine in South Carolina, he announced another appointment for preaching in the same place, on that day twelve months. The year passed, and Lorenzo was entering the neighborhood, the evening preceding his appointment, he overtook a colored boy who was blowing a long tin horn, and could out a blast with rise, and swell, and cadence, which waked the echoes of the distant hills. Calling aside the blower, Dow said to him:

"What is your name, sir?"

"My name? Gabriel, sir!" replied the brother in ebony.

"Well, Gabriel, have you been to Church Hill?"

"O yes, mass, I'se been dar many a time.'

"Do you remember a big spruce pine tree on that hill?"

"O yes, massa, I knows dat pine."

"Did you know that Lorenzo Dow had an appointment to preach under that tree to-morrow?"

"O yes, massa, everybody knows dat."

"Well, Gabriel, I am Lorenzo Dow, and if you'll take your horn and go to-morrow morning and climb into that pine tree, and hide among the branches before the people begin to gather, and wait there until I call your name, and then blow such a blast with your horn as I heard you blow a minute ago I'll give you a dollar. Will you do it, Gabriel?"

"Yes, massa, I takes that dollar."

Gabriel, like Zacchues, was hid away in the tree top in fine time. An immense concourse, of all sizes and colors, assembled at the appointed hour, and Dow preached on the judgment of the last day. By his power of description he wrought the multitude up to the opening scenes of the resurrection, of the grand assize, at the call of the trumpet peals which were to awake the nations. "Then," said he, "suppose my friends that we should hear at that moment the sound of Gabriel's trumpet." Sure enough, at that moment the trumpet of Gabriel sounded. The women shrieked, and many fainted; some ran, others fell and called for mercy; and all felt that for a time that the judgment was set and the books were opened. Dow stood and watched the driving storm till the fright abated; and some one discovered the colored angel who had caused the alarm, quietly perched at limb of the old spruce, and wanted him down and whip him, and the reasons ed his theme, saying: "I forbid all a cofrom touching that boy up there hten you lored boy with a tin horn can will you do almost out of your wits. Wet of the archwhen ye shall hear the trie to stand in the angle? How will ye h God? He made great day of the wrath tion. a very effective app

VIOLENT STORM.

On Friday last a most destructive storm of rain and hail, accompanied by thunder and lightning, passed over Lancaster county, Pa. Great damage was done to the crops. The Lancaster Intelligencer says:

"The barn of Jacob M. Huber, between Landisville and Robrestown, was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed, with all its contents and a large quantity of agricultural implements and one cow. The barn of Mr. Bruckhart, on the road leading from Salunga to Marietta, was struck and destroyed, the entire crop of grain and hay being consumed. The stock was all saved except one cow.

"The barn of John Kuhns, near Maytown, was struck by lightning and burned down, and also another building a few rods distant. There was a lightning rod erected between the two buildings. Mr. Longnecker's barn, near Elizabethtown, was also burnt. The lightning struck five times within the borough of Mount Joy, but we have heard of no serious damage being done.

In Marietta and vicinity the storm seems to have raged with great fury and destructiveness. Streets overflowed, and a number of persons were compelled to leave their houses and seek refuge elsewhere. Several made narrow escapes with their lives.

The storm seems to have extended southward only some six or eight miles. In East and West Lampeter it was very destructive."

THE FAIR.

We want our people to attend the Fair, at Raleigh on the 19th of next month. Let them get ready their fat beeves, hogs, cows, sheep, fine horses, mules, the prettiest cake of butter, whitest honey, best flour, nicest batch of dried and green fruit, wheat, corn, potatoes, the best made "old fashioned bed quilt," all the little handiwork of our Orange girls' (we bet on 'em!) needles the best knit stocking, the best piece of spun cloth, and so on till you end the alphabet. We "pit" old Orange against the State for the prettiest women that will be at the Fair. Now!

THE POOR.

We are all poor critturs.

Some of us profess religion; some don't. Most all of us love money and will "whip the devil" to make it.

There are a few though who don't love money. They are those who never have it. The poor. The summer has passed with them, and the brow of heaven is lowering dark and cold on them. The winter is coming. They have no furs to wrap up in; no cosy rug by the blazing fire; alas, some of them no shelter over their heads.

Christ is said to have been very zealous of the necessities of the poor. If this be so, it certainly behooves the professing disciples of our Savior to be in a like manner attentive to their wants. "For as much as ye have done it unto one of these &c."

The people of North Carolina are neither mobbers or rioters. They have been instructed in a school of the purest law in the land. Their magistrates and judges were wont to be of unsullied reputation and high order of intelligence. Alas!

Now, their schoolmaster is turned out of doors; their good men are fettered with the gyves of hen roost robbers; and a galaday of villainy and corruption is had in the halls where truth and justice once presided. Picayune pip-a-peeps have pecked through the shells of their inborn depravity and with their feet in the stirrups are riding law abiding and God fearing people into help and confusion. The weak are vile to the intelligent are despised; and with the and dirty blackguards are girded innocence that once was the shield of virtue.

In some communities the superstitious and ignorant neg. (more to be pitied than blamed,) or possibly some white skinned sink of iniquity, is trampling under his foul feet all of the purity all of the symmetry, all of the beauty of the law that North Carolinians were once wedded to as a bride-groom to his bride.

Why is the head of the State silent? Why are the authorities dumb? Don't they know that such a state of affairs cannot last much longer? Let them throw this scum out of office and have [illegible] in their stead, and the result will be that not only will all good men honor them for the deed, but bad men will praise them for it, and the men thrown out will themselves be the loudest in their support of the administration. Let Governor Holden ponder this matter.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Washington, Sept. 24.—It is stated that Gen. Canby recommends the re-establishment of the Freedmen's Bureau in Virginia. Among the reasons given for this action is, that the drought has produced a scarcity of grain, which threatens much suffering among the negroes.

New York, September 25.—the Gold Board adjourned at 10 o'clock this morning until Monday. A committee was then appointed to wait on Mr. Butterfield, assistant United States treasurer, and ask him to postpone the sale of the $4,000,000 gold to some future day. No gold transactions of to-day will be recognized by the Board, and there are no quotations.

Stocks are dull with little doing, and prices a shade off from the opening.

Money 7 per cent., with ½ to ¾ commission added. Five-twenties, 1862, 1215-8 Tennessee 6's—Ex-coupons, 61; new, 55. Virginia 6's—38; new, 58. North Carolina 6's—old, 52½; new, 46.

Washington, September 24.—Cuban partisans here have startling news from that island. New dissensions have compelled the reorganization of the patriot army, and President Cespedes has assumed supreme command, with Gen. Jordan as chief of staff. The Cubans assassinated two Cuban Generals before the reorganization.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 25.—The horses attached to a carriage containing a gentleman and four ladies became unmanageable. The gentleman jumped off, and escaped. The carriage and horses, went over a bank 150 feet high, killing one lady, fatally injuring another, and terribly bruising the others. The party were from Providence, R. I.

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—The heavy rush for gold yesterday, caused by advices from the Atlantic side, caused the banks to refuse to sell at any price.

Wisconsin papers now want hanging legalized. They are going to hang desperadoes any way, and think it was as well be done by sanction of law. Wisconsin abolished capital punishment some years ago.

The Danville Register says: "The Executive Committee of the Border Agricultural Society decided to hold a Fair here on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the 13th, 14th and 15th of October next.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

THE Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge,) with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure Cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

Parties wishing the prescription, will please address,
Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON,
Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

A GENTLEMAN who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN,

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day the best and purest tonic, and the most popular medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Country Stores.

Company Shops.

From our correspondent.

A dancing school taught by a young lady from Raleigh is on the tapis at the Shops.

The N. C. C. R. R. Company are building a money vault at the Shops.

A few loose white women from Greensboro came to the Shops the other evening and were having a high time flying around the village in company with some colored men. But the citizens gave them notice to "be ready to move at a minute's warning" and I tell you they got up and gat from here.

Under the Oak.

I see that under the above caption you noticed a negro "big meetin'" going on in Caswell—just over the line and not far from the farm of a Mr. Franklin in Person county. Well; you are mighty right. It is a big meeting. Last Sunday there was the rise of three thousand negroes present. But let me tell you. Mr. Franklin had 14 head of as fine sheep as you ever saw. And now he has but one and two thirds. One of the two sheep having a leg cut off.

Milton.

From our own correspondent.

Last Friday night some one stole a hog from Mr Reuben M. Phelps who lives 3 miles from Milton. And a few nights since a sheep was stolen from N. B. Taylor of the same neighborhood.

A fine rain fell in Milton Thursday night. It rained hard for about an hour.

Nathaniel Palmer—near Milton—caught 7 possums and 2 coons the other night.

Olive Hill.

From Our Special Correspondent.

An old swindler named Howard has been on the rounds in this neighborhood. He got money from one neighbor; meal from another, and whiskey from another. Maybe he's after starting another "Howard's Bureau."

Last Thursday morning Mr. Melvin Webster went into old Squire John Bradsher's mill for the purpose of repairing it, as it had been out of use for some time and he found a sheep cut up and salted in a tub. A freedman was arrested, but while they were fixing to tie him, he got loose.

One night last week some one stole a hog and a sheep from Mr. Patrick Clay, near here.

Killed.

Clem Pancett—an old negro of this place who has been employed as a railroad guard at the upper Eno bridge—was killed Thursday morning by the mail train. He was asleep on the track.

Sally.

Sally Clark is a white damsel near this place who set her affections on the negro men. So public was the licentiousness carried on at this roadside den of iniquity that decent ladies were afraid to go along that road. Sally has recently been shaved and blacked her as black as a crow. And the result is Sally has left this part of the country.

An L. L. D.

Judge Tourgee has a brother or a cousin or relative of some sort who has lately gone into Caswell county from yankee land. His name is Leonard and he practices law for the negroes and signs himself L. L. D. There was a case at Yanceyville the other day before Cook—a negro magistrate—in which a negro was arraigned for stealing wheat. Leonard "opened;" soared; flew aloft; scientifically tore things. John Kerr then got up and made the following laconic address to the court: "Cook—there's no use listening to that fellow. You know this nigger stole the wheat!" "Sartain, sir, he did. Take dat nigger to jail!" responded the Court as Leonard, L. L. D., was just getting on his legs for another forensic display.

Guilford.

From Our Correspondent.

I see you are fond of "getting up" the eccentricities of this many peopled world. Well—you have heard of folks being "saving";—" hav'n't you! I can astound you. Old Mrs. Quest, who lives but a few miles from Greensboro, has now the paper of pins she bought when she was a bride. And her daughters are now old enough to form themselves into a committee of grandmothers for such a youth as yourself. More anon.

Mexican Grass.

The son of the late J. A. McDade near Cedar Grove is selling the seed of this excellent grass. A package of the seed was sent to his father from out west just before the war. Last year he sold 200 bushels at two dollars a bushel. We are informed that one year Mr. McDade on an acre of good land made four thousand pounds of hay from this grass. On good wheat land it grows the height of wheat, keeps green during the winter, and is excellent for stock.

A Comrade Gone.

It was with sad sensation we opened a letter from Portsmouth (Va.) the other day informing us of the death of Capt. J. M. Rindier of that city. 'Twas but a few days since we saw him in perfect health. And now! he has "crossed over." The deceased was for awhile Adjutant General for Scales' Brigade and at the close of the war held a similar position in McGowan's (S. C.) Brigade. He was a gallant soldier and a true and warm hearted friend. Farewell, comrade; your camp fire still burns bright in the bivouac of the dead past.

Boys, Read!

An honest boy like an honest man "is the noblest work of God." Pond bacon is a little orphan boy who stays at the drug store in this place. A gentleman bought ten cents worth of medicine the other day and Fred gave him 40 cts in change. The gentleman left it on the counter and went off. Now, Fred might have stolen that money. But he didn't. About two weeks after the gentleman happened to be in town and Fred went up to him and told him how he had left the 40 cts on the counter and explained to him all about it. The gentleman told him to keep the money because he had proven himself such a very honest lad. Boys, honesty is the best policy—as sure's you're born.

Poisoned.

Old Sally Holden died last Wednesday. She was taken with a pain in her leg and it went to her head and killed her. The negroes say "she trod on something and was pisened."

Mr. George Lynch says that a negro woman out at his place told him the other day that she found a bag of roots in the spring and showed it to the doctor and that he told her she would soon swell up and break out in spots. Mr. L. told her to dry up and let him alone about "pisening"—he was tired of it. But he avers that some two days after, the negro women came into his presence and her head was nearly the size of a water bucket and her face as speckled as a turkey egg.

Raiders in Mecklenburg.

The year 1864 is long to be remembered in many counties in Virginia. At the time of the Staunton Raiders the good old stay-at-homes in Mecklenburg county were in a sad fix. They were too old to help themselves and the innocence of their young daughters was at the mercy of these brutal marauders. But the Virginia girls were brave. There were a few of their relatives and trustworthy male friends who chanced to be at home on furlough. These offered them their protection. They took it. And mounted behind these gallant young men they rode through the country dodging the cohorts of the yankee General—Kautz—but determined—if they were overtaken—to die at the backs of their brave defenders rather than submit to the insulting touch of a wild, half liquored, ravishing invader.

A TRUE INCIDENT.

Quite an amusing—though a very disagreeable one for the nonce—incident occurred about this time to an old citizen of this section. A few young men—at home on furlough—went out serenading to an old Mr Peyton's who with his old lady and two charming young daughters lived but a few miles off. The old gentleman heard what he supposed to be the tramp of yankee cavalry, and waking the old lady up, all the family took to the woods and ran into a bramble thicket at some distance from the house—a place that no one under ordinary circumstances would ever think of penetrating. The serenaders played a little while at the house and left dreadful sorry they hadn't been able to raise any "cake and wine." The next morning—about day—a negro came darting over to a Mr. Cocus's—a neighbor—and he said that "massa Musco and all de family done been taken from home and murdered." The whole neighborhood went out to search for the missing family. And after hunting till some time in the day they found the family in the bramble thicket and they were mightily relieved to find out that their friends wern't raiders. I give this instance to show the fiery ordeal through which we country folks passed while afflicted with yankee raiders.

The silk-worm industry is being prosecuted with vigor in California. Sufficient worms will be hatched to use all the available food, and the want of mulberry plantations is said to be the only reason that they will not this year be able to furnish sufficient eggs to supply half the demand of Italy.

The potato (Solanum tubersum,) as a crop for home consumption, formerly promised well; but of late years it has been attacked by a small worm which has proved very injurious, causing a premature decay of the vines, soon after which the tubers would begin to rot, often leaving at digging time not more than half a crop.

About two years ago the experiment of clover growing was commenced in this (Randolph,) county. Many of our people pronounced it a humbug, a useless waste of money and time; but now there is ocular demonstration of a grand success with it. A gentleman from the State of New York was here to day looking out for himself a farm; and on examining one of my clover lots was much pleased at the prospect, and said that he believed it would yet prove a renovator of the worn out lands of the south.

Swift.

"No matter how long you have been married, never neglect to court your wife."

An attentive correspondent reports the President as "fond of lemon pie," and that he recently "ate a whole one."

A Canada sheriff having a writ of attachment against the estate of a dead man, seized his widow's artificial teeth.

A Wisconsin man ran into a hornet's nest, in his barn, and was badly stung. In revenge, he he took matches and set fire to the nest, which was destroyed together with the barn.

The other day a lady in Carroll county, Georgia, gave birth to twins. On the same day, and in the same house, two of her daughters brought forth twins—all boys. They must have had a boysterous time in that mansion.

"A young lady of Indianapolis recently used corrosive sublimate to remove a light moustache on her upper lip. The application proved unexpectedly successful, for it removed the moustache and a portion of the lip besides."

A young lady—a sensible girl—gives the following catalogue of different kinds of love: "The sweetest, a mother's love; the longest, a brother's love; the strongest a woman's love; the dearest, a maid's love; and the sweetest, longest, strongest, dearest love—a 'love of a bonnet.'"

A boy of five years, who was always known to keep quiet on Sunday, having grown inexpressibly weary towards the close of a Sabbat-day, said lovingly and honestly to his excellent, but rather over-strict father, and gravely said:—"Pa, let's have a little spiritual fun." This was too much not only for the gravity, but also for the strictness of the father, and for once he "let nater caper" till bedtime.

"I was dressed in the evening suit which society has economically arranged shall be equally adapted for preaching a sermon, conducting a funeral, receiving company of the highest social position, or waiting on table, that is, a black swallow-tail coat and a white cravat. So, whether I was a preacher, undertaker, host, or servant, it would be hard to say."

The following extraordinary advertisement appears in a French paper:—

"A man much discouraged, and who wishes to end his life, is desirous of meeting with an English gentleman who will promise to settle 10,000f. upon the children. He will then place himself at the disposal of the gentleman to fight all his duels, mount the summit of a glacier, descend into the crater of Vesuvius, or precipitate himself from a balloon."

SHREWD, SHREWDER.

A Quaker having lost a quarter of mutton by a lawyer's dog, repaired to the office of the lawyer and said: "I have come to ask a piece of thy advice. Suppose a dog carried off a leg of mutton from me, — do I look for pay, to the dog or his — " said the man of the quill, — responsible for any damage his dog does you." Said Broadbrim: "Thee owes me seventy-five cents." "Ah?" said the lawyer, "then my dog did the mischief? Well, here is the money." The face of the Quaker expanded with a smile at his shrewdness in forestalling the opinion of the lawyer, and he was making his exit from the office, when he was brought to a halt by the lawyer saying: "I have a small bill against you, my friend." "Ah! for what?" said the Quaker. "For advice in the dog case—two dollars," was the reply. This was a poser. It being strictly legal, and the lowest fee in the calendar for advice, there was no dodging; so the money was forked over and Shadbelly pocketed a loser if not a better man.

TO THOSE SUFFERING WITH PULMONARY DISEASE.

DR. THOMAS H. MILES, continues to treat Thoracic diseases by Topical Medication, or Catheterism of the air passages, conjoined with appropriate general remedies, as practiced by the late Prof. Green, of New York. The success attending this method of treating diseases of the lungs, is unparralleled, and the feasibility of the operation generally conceded. This treatment is almost a specific Bronchitis, Laryngitis, incipient Tuberculosis and Asthma. Numerous testimonials can be adduced from those who have been entirely relieved by the operation. His address is Mount Carmel, Halifax county, Va.

Near Yanceyville, Caswell co., N. C.
April, 1869.

This is to certify that I have been suffering for several years with chronic Bronchitis; attended with all the symptoms of incipient Consumption; during this period, I had frequent hemorrhages from the lungs. I also suffered greatly from enlarged Tonsils. I tried the usual remedies in such cases, but without satisfactory results. I finally concluded to try Dr Miles' treatment of cauterizing the air passages by injection. I remained under his treatment for six weeks—rejoice to say that I believe my lungs are entirely relieved. I will say that excision of the tonsils added greatly to my relief. I most cheerfully recommend this treatment to all persons similarly afflicted.

A MOST WONDERFUL AND SUCCESSFUL INVENTION!

New Method of Washing Clothes without Labor.

THE AUTOMATIC
Clothes Washer and Boiler.

Awarded the highest Testimonial wherever Exhibited.

Rev. M. W. STAPLES, Inventor and Patentee.

THIS BOILER is self-acting, and dispenses entirely with labor and the wear of clothes. The hot suds and steam by the action of fire, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing it perfectly without any rubbing. It has been thoroughly tested, and pronounced unequalled as a Clothes Washer, by those who have used it.

All fabrics, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket can be washed perfectly and with ease and without the aid of the rubbing board. For Flannels it is invaluable, as the rubbing, rolling and pressing process must necessarily full them out of size.

It is truly a labor and clothes saving invention. Washing will no longer be a hardship, and washing day no longer a terror and a dread to housewives.

The invention can be used in any boiler, and the low price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

The saving in the wear of clothes will soon pay for the outlay.

It is estimated that 200 to 300 gallons of boiled suds pass through the clothes in thirty minutes; this being the longest time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes.

Hundreds of these Boilers are being sold each week, giving perfect satisfaction.

Every boiler sold guaranteed to do all we claim, or money refunded.

The undersigned, as Agent for J. B. Hunter & Co., of Portsmouth, Va., (who have the right for this State) has commenced the Manufacture of these Boilers and will furnish the citizens of this place and Chatham, and with, as stated above, take back and refund money for any Boiler which fails to give perfect satisfaction, and do all claimed for it.
